CONTENTS VOLUME 72 DECEMBER 1984

page 1 PETTY, H. R., HERMANN, W., DERESKI, W., FREY, T. and MCCONNELL, H. M. Activatable esterase activity of murine natural killer cell–YAC tumour cell conjugates

15 DE GROOT, E. J. and SCHWEIGER, H.-G. Possible translocation of a gene for thymidylate kinase from the chloroplast to the nuclear genome during evolution

23 CHANDLER, D. E. Comparison of quick-frozen and chemically fixed sea-urchin eggs: structural evidence that cortical granule exocytosis is preceded by a local increase in membrane mobility

37 THOMPSON, S., STERN, P. L., WEBB, M., WALSH, F. S., ENGSTROM, W., EVANS, E. P., SHI, W.-K., HOPKINS, B. and GRAHAM, C. F. Cloned human teratoma cells differentiate into neuron-like cells and other cell types in retinoic acid

65 MISSET, M. T. and GOURRET, J. P. Accumulation of smooth cisternae in the tapetal cells of Ulex europaeus L. (Papilionoideae)

75 NICOLINI, C., VERNAZZA, G., CHIABRERA, A., MARALDI, I. N. and CAPITANI, S. Nuclear pores and interphase chromatin: high-resolution image analysis and freeze etching

89 SLUIMAN, H. J. A pathway of plasma membrane biogenesis bypassing the Golgi apparatus during cell division in the green alga Cylindrocapsa geminella

101 SATMARY, W. M. and BRADLEY, T. J. Dissociation of insect Malpighian tubules into single, viable cells

111 MIWA, I. Destruction of immaturin activity in early mature mutants of Paramecium caudatum

121 MOORE, P. B., KRAUS-FRIEDMANN, N. and DEDMAN, J. R. Unique calcium-dependent hydrophobic binding proteins: possible independent mediators of intracellular calcium distinct from calmodulin

135 LINCOLN, D. W. II, BRAUNSCHWEIGER, K. I., BRAUNSCHWEIGER, W. R. and SMITH, J. R. Cell type specific electrophoretic polypeptide profiles of cultured bovine cells

147 HARRISON, F. L., FIZGERALD, J. E. and CATT, J. W. Endogenous β-galactoside-specific lectins in rabbit tissues

163 ELLISON, J. and GARROD, D. R. Anchoring filaments of the amphibian epidermal–dermal junction traverse the basal lamina entirely from the plasma membrane of hemidesmosomes to the dermis

173 GAGET, M., SAÏD, C., DUMAS, C. and KNOX, R. B. Pollen–pistil interactions in interspecific crosses of Populus (sections Aigeiros and Leuce): pollen adhesion, hydration and callose responses

185 DYLEWSKI, D. P. and KEENAN, T. W. Centrioles in the mammary epithelium of the rat

195 BAILEY, D. S., COOK, A., MCALLISTER, G., MOSS, M. and MIAN, N. Structural and biochemical differentiation of the mammalian small intestine during foetal development

213 YEW, F. H. and CHANG, L. M. DNA replication and repair in Tilapia cells. I. The effect of ultraviolet radiation

227 RAYNER, M. J. and PULSFORD, J. A. J. Acquisition of a limited lifespan by differentiating cells derived from PC13 embryonal carcinoma cells

241 GOSS, S. J. The associated reactivation of two X-linked genes: the spontaneous and azacytidine-induced re-expression of ornithine transcarbamoylase and glucose-6-phosphate dehydrogenase in a rat hepatoma

259 LEE, C. M., JONES, C. J. and KEALEY, T. Biochemical and ultrastructural studies of human eccrine sweat glands isolated by shearing and maintained for seven days

275 GAMBINO, J., WEATHERBEE, J. A., GAVIN, R. H. and ECKHARDT, R. A. Studies on the cytoskeletal and nuclear architecture of Xenopus erythrocytes

295 Cameron, I. L., Hunter, K. E. and Smith, N. K. R. The subcellular concentration of ions and elements in thin cryosections of onion root meristem cells: an electron-probe EDS study

307 Delivopoulos, S. G. and Kugrens, P. Ultrastructure of the fusion cell in Faucheocolax attenuata Setch. (Rhodophyta, Rhodymeniales)
